We are delighted to jointly host the Creating Connections Palliative Care Conference, organised by the Wolfson Palliative Care Research Centre at the University of Hull, and the Centre for Improving Palliative, Aged and Chronic Care through Clinical Research and Translation (IMPACCT) at the University Of Technology Sydney.

This free-to-attend event is open to all with an interest in palliative care for people with advanced and chronic illnesses. It provides an opportunity to see some of the exciting and leading-edge research being undertaken as part of our collaboration funded by the Research England's International Investment Initiative (I3). The I3 builds on the established partnership between our both our research Centres.

The conference features a keynote address on “End of life care for those from minoritised communities – How can we be the better specialty?”, by Professor Jonathan Koffman, Professor of Palliative Care, Wolfson Palliative Care Research Centre, Hull York Medical School, University of Hull, UK.
